VERY IMPORTANT INFORMATION REGARDING CARE AND USE OF YOUR SALADMASTER COOKWARE

PRICING SUBJECT TO CHANGE

WASH FIRST BEFORE USING

It is important to wash cookware thoroughly before initial use. Thoroughly cleaning your cookware will remove any traces of manufacturing oils or polishing compounds. If the cookware is not pre-washed, it may discolor when heated. Using a dishcloth or sponge, wash each utensil in hot, soapy water to which ½ cup of vinegar has been added. After washing, rinse thoroughly with hot water and towel dry for a mirror like finish.

KEEP YOUR COOKWARE LOOKING ITS BEST!

Golden brown or blue heat tints may result from over-heating. White spots may occur from minerals present in food or water. These temporary blemishes can be removed easily by following the procedure below.

Rinse utensil with warm water. Create a paste-like mixture using a small amount of water and a non-abrasive stainless steel cleanser such as Surface Master™ by Saladmaster.

DO NOT use a cleanser containing chlorine bleach. Apply paste with a sponge or cloth and rub lightly in a circular motion. Wash, rinse and dry.

Note: Dishwasher cleaning will not completely remove heat or food films left on utensils. Remove films by following the directions above before dishwasher cleaning.
